

DIRECTOR OF NAVAL INTELLIGENCE

26 November 1982

Dear [redacted]

STAT

Thank you for sending me the Summer 1982 issue of Studies in Intelligence. I enjoyed reading it, noting happily that you are maintaining the high literary standards which those of us familiar with Studies have come to expect as the usual for it. The high point for me in this issue was, as you might expect, Dick Lehman's "Valedictory."

I was given a copy of Mr. Kent's first Studies by [redacted] when I was on Mr. Eisenhower's staff and have not missed many issues in the intervening years. I will, indeed, encourage our professionals in Naval Intelligence to join with you in publishing the journal.

STAT

Most sincerely,

JOHN L. BUTTS
Rear Admiral, U.S. Navy
